The Business Model Advantage of Prior Learning Assessment (PLA)

Prior Learning Assessment is the term for a number of methods that colleges and universities use to evaluate, and award credit for, college-level learning that takes place outside of a postsecondary institution. These credits can advance the completion of a degree or certification, offering accelerated access to career placement or meaningful re-entry to the workforce.

Institutions that offer a PLA program are committed to adult learner achievement and advancement. When effectively marketed, these non-traditional students become aware of—and understand—the benefits of a portfolio assessment process. PLA is a strategic solution for degree completion and career advancement. This can best be illustrated in the PLA Business Model Canvas. Click here to continue reading

AICUO & BoardMax Are Partnering to Bring You a Better Board Management Experience

The Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Ohio has entered into a partnership with BoardMax, a board management and communication software that helps manage all of your trustees, meetings, documents and activities. AICUO reviewed BoardMax and believes that a tremendous value will be offered to both your staff and trustees by incorporating it into your board management practices. We have negotiated a price reduction of up to 20% off to encourage the same adoption and to facilitate the addition of these efficiencies. Learn how BoardMax can:

- Manage all board-related communication and activities
- Track board performance, expectations, and responsibilities
- Drive governance and compliance
- Better align your board strategic plan goals
- Maximize the ROI of your strategic plan
